The high-quality astreea® Igloo offers a wide range of applications, whether in the catering sector, in the garden, for companies or simply as a smoking pavilion. Partitioning in the hotel and catering industry, conference room, retreat, conservatory, greenhouse, as a pavilion, as a summer four-poster bed or a way to sit comfortably outside at any time of year, astreea® Igloo can do it all.

Despite its size, it can be set up quickly in about 15 minutes. A leading European aerospace company, which also supplies global brands such as Boeing, Airbus and Rolls-Royce, is responsible for the patented design and production. The aerospace-certified 6063 aluminium frame is both robust and lightweight. With different covers, the Igloo is perfect for use in any area, weather resistance in hot and cold weather as well as customer-oriented functionalities have been considered down to the smallest detail, and customisation is also possible at any time.

With new shapes and add-on modules, the Igloo conquers almost every sector - and is corona-compliant at the same time. Thanks to ceiling ventilation, the social distancing concept and accessories such as a TÜV-certified air purifier against aerosols and disinfection dispensers, the Igloo offers a permanent hygiene solution with a modern, stylish character.
